Comments: This was a really bad time for such a wreckless incident to happen. With the droughts and fires....Have you investigated the person or persons that is responsible for this mistake. You need to investigate anything and everything of all involved in this so called accident. The best way a terrorist could do damage to the USA is through our waterways that cares for the western part of the USA during drought. Was this really just an accident? Such a careless accident when knowing what was in this mine to begin with..???????????? Are we, the USA, so stupid and unsuspecting with all the disasters lately (past6months) here in the USA. Not to be paranoid but we should be more than naive.....America wake up and be more alert of who is working on a project before they begin the project....Investigate,,,ProtectDefend us and our nation---The USA. You , the EPA you should be the most thorough investigative people and you are not. Why??? You think your job is only to try to correct environmental mistakes after they happen---wrong!!! You are to PREVENT mistakes---just like this one!!!!!!!!! Get Real. Investigate--earn your money that we people pay you!!
